

Journals That Move Research Forward

Editorial excellence with flexible access and open futures.

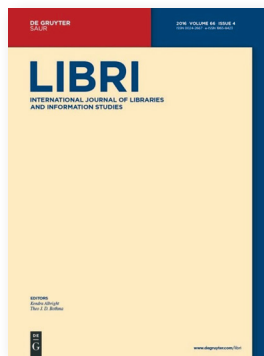

De Gruyter Brill publishes a diverse portfolio of high-quality journals across the humanities, social sciences, and STEM-related disciplines. Our journals are recognized for their strong editorial leadership, international authorship, and relevance to active research communities.

Editor-in-Chief:
Alan Jeffrey Giacomini

Editors-in-Chief:
Mariska E. Kret and
Brian Wisenden

Editors-in-Chief:
Kendra S. Albright and
Theo J.D. Bothma

Editors-in-Chief:
Hans Blom, Mark Somos

 Libraries can access content through individual subscriptions, subject collections, and comprehensive journal archives.

S<sub>2</sub>O Subscribe to Open

Open access without APCs, powered by libraries.

Subscribe to Open is De Gruyter Brill's sustainable open access model for journals. When libraries maintain their subscriptions to these titles, their participation ensures that newly published articles are made available open access. S2O preserves existing workflows while expanding global access to scholarship for the greater research community. These titles are completely searchable on degruyterbrill.com.

Journal collection benefits:

- Current content and deep archives available
- Flexible subscription and collection options
- Sustainable open access via S2O
- Trusted editorial standards

Visit degruyterbrill.com
for more information